The Scrap Book

Entirely Too Liberal.

Every once in a while a new campaign story yet bobs up in Washington. This one is on Ralph Cole, Ohio member of congress, who did his best to make his district go Republican,
but who cannot point to any particularly howling success in that regard.
At one town in his district he was to divide his time with a local spellbinder. The local man spoke first and was to have kept going for half an hour, but he made it an hour and a half. When he got through he made an apology for encroaching on Cole's time.

"It reminds me," Cole said, as he faced his audience, "of what I once heard in a courtroom. The defendant had been found guilty of a criminal charge. The judge sentenced him to fifteen years. 'Have you anything to say?' demanded the court of the prisoner. 'Nothing but this,' was the reply. 'I think you're mighty d— liberal with another man's time.'"

Then Cole turned loose and coaxed back the departing audience by the flow of his wonderful oratory.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

Where one is located in the vicinity of a good horse market and his tastes incline in that direction there is good money to be made by purchasing raw,
thin and unbroken horses, fattening
them, breaking them and finishing them for market. And it is often surprising what a few months of this kind
will do for a decidedly unpromising
piece of horseflesh.

Three Escape From Bradford Jail.
Bradford, Pa., March 13.—Patrick
Wilson, Frederick Crane and Thomas Brady, all charged with larceny, as-caped from the county jail by sawing the bars of their cells. It is believed they had outside assistance.

RESIGNATION OF REV. MR. WOODS

Rev. D. W. Woods, Pastor of the Presbyterian Church in this Place for a Number of Years
Tenders his Resignation.

Rev. D. W. Woods, for over fourteen years pastor of the Presbyterian church
at this place, tendered his resignation
at the morning service on Sunday.
The resignation takes effect on April 11 on which date the Presbytery of Carlisle meets at Greencastle.

Rev. Mr. Woods will take up farming and after retiring from his duties at the local church will move to the farm, along Marsh Creek, near the plant of the Gettysburg Water Company, which he purchased last September from the Rev. W. S. Barnes.

Rev. Mr. Woods has been pastor of the Presbyterian church for over fourteen years. In November 1896 he came to Gettysburg from Lewistown, his birthplace, and took charge of the church, being installed the January following.

During his pastorate and residence here Mr. Woods has always taken a keen and active interest not only in the welfare of his church and its members, but also of the town and community, using his influence both from the pulpit and in other ways for the general uplift of Gettysburg. His resignation was accepted with regret at a congregational meeting held this afternoon and a representative appointed to convey this action to the meeting of the Presbytery at Greencastle next month.

DISASTROUS FIRE

A disastrous fire occurred about 10.30 o'clock Friday night, which destroyed the large bank barn together with 40 head of live stock and contents on the farm of D. E. Winebrenner, about one mile south of Hanover.
along the Westminster road which entailed a loss of over $5,000. This farm was formerly owned by Lewis Dellone, late of Hanover.

The fire which started in the hay
mow, was first discovered by Frank Lane, a neighbor, who saw flames issuing through the roof. Mr. Lane ran to the scene of the fire and aroused the tenant farmer, Paul Wagner and family, who were asleep. In the meantime other neighbors arrived, ready to assist in removing the stock and implements, but their efforts were useless, as the fire had gained such headway that the barn and adjacent buildings—wagon
shed, cattle barn, hog pen and chicken
house, were already doomed.

Besides the bank barn 70 by 40 feet
in size and adjoining buildings, which were totally destroyed, the greatest loss was the death of 35 head of fat
cattle, two cows, two mules, one horse,
two hogs and a large number of chickens, which perished in the flames.

A lot of hay and straw, 90 bushels of rye, farming implements, etc., were consumed. Two additional steers, which escaped from the burning buildings, were so badly injured that they were killed to end their sufferings.

The cause of the fire is a mystery.
The buildings and contents, with the exception of the 37 head of cattle are covered by insurance in the Codorus &
Manheim Fire Insurance Company.

This is the second barn destroyed by fire on this farm. The first fire occured 28 years ago, on the same site,
when the farm was owned by the late Jesse Rice.

WOULD CUT DOWN THE RED CEDARS

Fruit Growers Association of Adams County Passes Resolution Asking
that All Such Trees in Fruit Belt
be Cut Down.

The eighty fifth regular meeting of the Fruit Growers Association of Adams County was held in Arendts-ville on Saturday afternoon. Five fruit growers joined the association making a total enrollment over 250.

C. A. Griest gave a detailed account of the most important features of the recent State Horticultural Association meeting at Harrisburg. In discussion the paper of Prof. H. R. Fulton on "Cedar Rust or Orange Rust of Apple," the importance of destroying all red cedar trees was brought out. This matter was under full discussion.
Owing to the serious damage
caused by this disease in many Adams County orchards last season and the very great losses from Cedar Rust in some other sections where it has secured a stronger hold, and since the disease can only flourish if it has both apple and red cedar trees as hosts, it was deemed wise to take a positive stand in the matter.

A resolution was passed strongly urging the destruction of all red cedars in the Fruit Belt. The corresponding secretary was instructed to warn all members of the damage to be overcome only by cutting every red cedar,
even the small bushes, in the district.
The tree has little, if any, economic value here and this means of saving the Fruit Belt from serious loss, is very simple if carried out promptly and by all.

It is for the very purpose of seeking information for its members and guarding them, so far as possible, against loss that the association was organized. It should have the heartiest support of every person in the county who is interested in fruit.

The next regular meeting will be held in Fruit Growers' Hall, Bendersville, Saturday evening, April 8th at 7.30.

TRY TO CHANGE ROUTE OF ROAD

Movement on Foot to Change Proposed State Highway from Gettysburg to York so as to Include Hanover.

Efforts to change the route of the proposed new state highway from Gettysburg to York are now being urged by Hanover citizens. The present route, under the Sproul highway bill is by way of New Oxford and Abbottstown, which of course, cuts out Hanover.

H. S. Ehrhart, of Hanover, was at York Saturday in consultation with Assemblyman Robert S. Frey, who is chairman of the House Sub-Committee having this project in charge, and he has learned that Mr. Frey favors a change in the route, which would run
the State Highway from York through Spring Grove, Hanover, McSherrys-
town and Bonneauville to Gettysburg.

By this change the several state roads and pikes along the route could be connected, argue those favoring the change, and save an additional expenditure of money, and it would also reach at least ten times the population, along the other route, say the Hanoverians.

ister of York Springs. One grandson
also survives.

In addition to the children Mr.
Stevens is survived by one brother John Stevens, of Heidersburg, and one ville.

known in Huntingdon township, Tyrone township and York Springs.

erstown, were totally destroyed by fire, Friday afternoon, along with some other outbuildings and a tenant

traction engine and the loss will reach $15,800, with a total of $8,700 in-

FINAL SERVICE IN ST. JAMES

Farewell Service in Old Lutheran Church. History of Congregation and its House of Worship.
Start Operations.

St. James church—standing for more than three score years, housing four generations of worshippers, witnessing hundreds of sacred services—
was the scene of its final usefulness on Sunday when a farewell service to the old church, loved and revered by hundreds, was held in the presence of a large audience.

All day Sunday was devoted to allusions to the passing of the structure which has stood for so many years. In the morning all of the aged people of the congregation, who wished it,
were taken to the church in carriages
by the Young Men's Brotherhood. In the afternoon at the Sunday School
service talks were given by George W.
Spangler, superintendent of the school for twenty years, from 1871 to 1891, by R. William Bream, Dr. J. A. Clutz
and Rev. J. B. Baker.

The evening church service was the farewell to the old church. Rev. Mr.
Baker preached an appropriate sermon on "Arise, therefore, and build the sanctuary of the Lord God." Dr.
Clutz made another address, congratulating the congregation both on their ability to erect a new church and on their inclination to take up the task.

St. James Lutheran congregation was organized in 1848. Before that time they had worshiped with the Reformed congregation in a church which stood on the site of the present Trinity Reformed church. The first church was erected in 1847-8 and in 1887 it was remodeled, the tower being added,
the Sunday School being enlarged by turning the sexton's quarters into a part of that room and numerous other changes and additions made.

Eleven pastors have served the congregation since its organization. Doctors Keller, Essick, Anstadt, Breiden-baugh, Heindel, Enders, Daniel Steck, Schwartz, A. R. Steck, Clutz and Rev.
Joseph B. Baker.

Work at razing the present structure was begun today.

WEPT BIDDING PASTOR FAREWELL

The farewell services of the Rev.
Robert D. Clare, pastor of the St. Matthew's Lutheran church, York Sunday night, were attended by a display of deep feeling on the part of the pastor and members of the congregation.
In the wave of emotion which swept over the congregation when the Rev.
Mr. Clare had concluded his farewell remarks one woman fainted; and a physician had to be summoned.
Nearly every person in the throng of more than one thousand persons wept,
and many as they passed by their departing pastor for a last handshake
were, on account of their emotion, unable to give utterance to their feeling of regret over his departure.

THE FLOWER OF THE RANCH

A bright and breezy musical comedy
coming to Walter's Theatre, Monday, March 20, is Joseph E. Howard's greatest success, "The Flower of the Ranch." In writing this charming musical play he seemed to scorn the tropical lands and impossible situations dear to the average lover of comic opera, and turned to the far West for a setting, the result being a piece which has delighted metropolitan audiences for fifty weeks at a time and is meeting with equal success
"on the road." Howard has contributed music to more than a score of the most successful attractions, including "The Time, the Place and the Girl," "The Question," "A Stubborn Cinderella," "The Golden Girl,"
"The Prince of Tonight," etc. An excellent company of forty present this latest success with elaborate stage settings and effects.

BIND WOMAN AS THEY LOOT HOUSE

Thief Gets $165 While Other Points Revolver at Her.

Chester, Pa., March 13.—One of the boldest robberies in the history of this city was perpetrated at the home of John McMunigal, on East Eighteenth street, the thieves securing $165 in money.

Two men entered the house, both presumed to have been colored. They found Mrs. McMunigal in the dining room, waiting for her husband to arrive home. One of the men thrust a revolver in the woman's face and threatened to kill her if she made an outcry.

After binding her to the chair in which she was sitting with rope found in the house, Mrs. McMunigal, under threats of losing her life, was made to tell where she kept the money.

One of the burglars went upstairs and secured the money, while the other kept guard. Mrs. McMunigal pleaded with the man not to harm her children, who were in bed on the second floor.

"You are not married," he said to her. "You are Miss Cullen, who teaches in the Larkin grammar school."

The police take it from this that the desperadoes are no strangers, but thought they were entering the home of the school teacher, who lives alone in a large house on the same street.

Mr. McMunigal arrived home about the time his wife was feeling herself from the ropes. Mrs. McMunigal was able to give a good description of but one of the men. The police are on the trail of the men.

They are being held pending word from their parents.

TWO SHOT IN PISTOL DUEL

Attempt to Separate Lovers May Cost Two Lives.

ONE DEAD AND ONE DYING

Girl's Brother Killed and Her Sweetheart Fatally Injured in Fight in Newport, Tenn.

Newport, Tenn., March 13.—In a duel here Kidwell McSweeney, only son of Colonel W. J. McSweeney, state Democratic committeeman and noted lawyer, was killed, and John Pritchett, a young railroad switchman, was probably mortally wounded.

The tragedy resulted from Pritchett's attentions to Miss Emma McSweeney, aged eighteen, Colonel McSweeney's daughter.

Pritchett and Miss McSweeney were lovers. They continued to meet after Pritchett had been forbidden to enter the McSweeney home. Finally Colonel McSweeney in desperation placed his daughter in a convent at Nazareth. Six weeks later she escaped to a relative's home in Knoxville, Tenn., where Pritchett met her last Friday by request from her by telegraph. When her family heard she and Pritchett were married they were reported reconciled, and Miss McSweeney and Pritchett boarded a train at Knoxville for Newport "to face the music."

A friend, hearing they were not married, wired them not to stop at Newport to avoid danger. The couple accordingly passed through to Hot Springs, N. C., doubled back through Newport on a fast train and returned to Knoxville, where a friend persuaded the girl to return home, Pritchett agreeing not to return to Newport until the affair blew over.

Instead Pritchett returned to Newport and dodged behind the railway station to his room, while the girl was met by her brother and her uncle. Then young McSweeney followed Pritchett to the stairway leading to his room, where McSweeney, it is alleged, opened fire with a revolver. Pritchett returned the fire. There were no eye-witnesses.

Pritchett was taken to a Knoxville hospital. The girl was taken to her grandparents' home and has not been seen by her brother's body.

WALKED 16 HOURS FOR LIFE

Students Work in Relays to Save Would-Be Drug Suicide.

Bloomington, Ind., March 13.—Raced and walked on a skating rink floor for sixteen hours, beaten with rough wet towels and rubbed with salt until his flesh was raw, Thomas Edison went through a harrowing experience to escape death from morphine.

Edison had taken ten grains, and then, full of repentance, hunted a doctor. To keep him from going into a fatal sleep the doctor summoned to his aid a score of university medical students.

In relays they started a sixteen-hour Marathon. Edison was stripped to the waist. His legs were laid bare by cutting his trousers off at the knees. With students at each elbow, he was walked and trotted by the hour. A third student followed, beating him over the back and legs with a rough wet towel. When the flesh became raw salt was applied.

Five hundred persons witnessed the performance, among them Edison's wife, trouble with whom is said to have caused him to attempt his life. Several times he came near going to sleep in spite of the heroic treatment.

Sand Diet Cures Man of Cancer.

Trenton, N. J., March 13.—Advised to eat sand for cancer of the stomach by a Philadelphia druggist named Geiger, C. H. Coates, formerly of this city, quit a position in Spokane three years ago to come home to die. He is now well and he says it is due entirely to his diet of a teaspoon of sand and plain bird gravel, eaten every day. He puts the sand in his mouth raw and washes it down with water. He is now strong and hearty, but still continues to eat his teaspoon of sand daily.

SICK MAN TRICKS SON; KILLS SELF

Gets Pistol on Plea He Was Looking For Bottle.

West Chester, Pa., March 13.—Albert Valentine, fifty-five years old, killed himself before his son, who was in the room, could prevent.

Valentine had been a sufferer from heart disease. Several times recently, following attacks of pain, Mrs. Valentine had heard him threaten to shoot himself, and had hidden the only revolver in the house beneath garments in the bureau drawer.

The sick man was talking to his son about the Mexican situation. Suddenly a paroxysm of pain racked him. After the attack had passed he sank back on his pillow exhausted.

In a few moments Valentine got up and made his way unsteadily to the bureau.

His son asked what he was doing and he said he was looking for a brandy bottle.

A few seconds later he pressed revolver to his breast and fired. The bullet went through his heart. The son rushed for a physician, but the man was dead before his arrival.

EARTH SLIDE KILLS 26

Buried Alive Under 500,000 Tons in an Open Pit Mine.

Virginia, Minn., March 13.—Death in the form of 500,000 tons of iron ore, rock, earth, ice and snow slid down on thirty track layers working in the Norman open pit mine.

Only four of the men escaped, and three of these are in a hospital suffering from injuries that may prove fatal.

The place that was an open pit is now almost a plain of rock, ore and earth, with here and there parts of a body in sight. A few crushed heads protrude from the mass. Arms and legs could be seen at varying angles as the great lantern of the steam shovel swung over the half-filled mine pit.

An army of men with shovels worked desperately to recover the bodies. The work was tedious and difficult. Women and children ran screaming to the pit and some fell in while looking eagerly for lost friends.

REBELS ATTACK FEDERAL TROOPS

35 Fall in Battle Before Insurrectos Retreat.

THOUSANDS WITNESS FIGHT

Madero's Forces Were Completely Routed in Battle Last Week at Casas Grandes and Fifty-six Americans Were Killed.

Douglas, Ariz., March 13.—Thirty-five were killed or wounded in a battle when General Blanco, with 500 rebels, came out of the canyon east of Agu Prieta, and was engaged by a federal force of 300.

The battle was spectacular and was witnessed by thousands. The rebels withdrew, but are expected to attack again in a short time.

Expect Attack in Southern California. Tia Juana, Mex., March 13.—Mexican rurales who are guarding this town are expecting an attack by insurrectos to come within the next few hours.

All the women and children left the town as soon as it became light, and a few non-combatants took the opportunity to get away from the impending fighting.

The rebels are encamped about five miles east of Tia Juana, and scouts reported that it was evidently the intention of the rebel forces to attack Tia Juana. For days preparations have been made to meet an attack, and these were brought up so that they now make very effective defenses.

REBEL DEFEAT COMPLETE

Madero's Forces Routed and Fifty-six Americans Killed.

Chihuahua, Mex., March 13.—Reports received by Governor Miguel Ahumada from Casas Grandes show that the defeat of the rebel forces under Francisco I. Madero near that place by federalists will be so overwhelming that there is little chance of the scattered army again assuming formidable array.

Madero is reported to be fleeing towards the New Mexico line, accompanied by a handful of his panic-stricken men. Other detachments of rebels are making their way into the mountains west and south of Terrazas.

No little importance is attached to the wiping out of Madero's so-called flying column of Americans. According to official advisers received in Chihuahua there were sixty Americans in the battle, and all but three or four were killed. It is expected that this tragic ending of the soldiers of fortune from across the border will deter other adventuresome Americans from joining the rebel forces.

WANT TO KNOW WHO DID IT

Radicals to Make Trouble If "Big Business" Inspired War Bluff.

Washington, March 13.—Whenever two Democrats or two insurgents meet in Washington their single and as yet unanswered question was: "Who had the troops and ships sent to the border?"

For out of the mass of presidential denials and admissions, the threats of war by Senor de la Barra, the contradictory telegrams of President Diaz and Enrique Creel and the conference between De la Barra, Limantour and others in New York, so much uncertainty has grown about the genesis of the warlike movement that the Democrats and Republican insurgents propose to ask some questions when congress reconvenes.

The names of J. Pierpont Morgan, of the Guggenheims and of the Harriman interests have constantly been suggested as the influences which induced mobilization, and, if it can really be proved that "big business" is responsible, the Democrats and insurgents feel that they will be able to crush the political future of President Taft with the revelation.

The centers of the Mexican situation shifted from Washington to New York and Mexico City. The reports that the president rejected the advice of Secretary of State Knox were credited in Washington, and to Attorney General Wickersham's usual solicitude for Wall street interests was laid the cabinet responsibility. It was reported that the president, finding Mr. Knox unsympathetic, turned to secret agents of the departments of war and justice, and, from information gained by these, and on the advice of Mr. Wickersham, the mobilization was ordered. Rumors that Mr. Knox would soon tender his resignation were revived on the strength of the reported split between him and the president in the matter of the Mexican demonstration.

COLLAPSES AT SIGHT OF SLAIN WOMEN

Lad Accused of Killing Mother and Sister.

Stratford, N. H., March 13.—After looking into the faces of his mother, Mrs. George Bean, and his sister, Nina Bean, who were shot and killed at Maldstone, Vt., on Thursday, Arthur Bean, the eighteen-year-old son and brother, who is charged with the murders, collapsed and almost fell across the coffin.

The youth had been permitted to attend the funerals, but when the services were over was taken to the family home in Maldstone and locked up for another night with his guards.

Three daughters and one other son of Mrs. Bean also attended the funeral, but no sign of recognition was exchanged between the accused man and the rest of the family.

Members of the family told friends that the cause of the tragedy was the disposal of the Bean home. The house was left to Arthur by his father and the grandfather recently sent the young man a bill for labor and expenses about the house aggregating more than the house was worth.

The youth objected to paying the bill, and members of the family took sides in the matter. It was said by one of his sisters that Arthur went to her house recently and, flourishing a revolver, declared "somebody will get hurt if they don't stop nagging me."

SOCIETY "PUG" KNOCKED OUT

Tony Biddle Nearly Lost an Eye in Bout With Jack O'Brien.

Philadelphia, March 13.—For more than three days Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, the popular amateur society boxer, has been replying in a dark room, and it was not until Sunday that Dr. Charles S. Turnbull was able to assure him that he wouldn't lose the sight of his right eye.

Biddle's injury was sustained last Thursday afternoon in a furious bout with Jack O'Brien. Incidentally the energetic amateur had three teeth broken in the same fight, while Jack O'Brien sustained severe damage in the way of cut lips and nose.

The fight took place at the American Athletic club. Biddle expects to be out in a day or two.

"And you may say," he said, "that I will get back at Friend Jack in a few days."

Killed by His BoBarder.

Chester, Pa., March 13.—Tony Rosa was shot and killed at his home, 523 West Front street, by Luca Scesa, a boarder. The latter is in the Chester hospital being treated for a fracture of the skull and numerous cuts on the head, inflicted, he alleges, with a bottle in the hands of the man he shot. The police authorities have been unable to get a clear understanding of just what was the cause of the trouble between the men.

Bryan Guest of Governor Wilson.

Princeton, N. J., March 13.—William J. Bryan Sunday evening dined with Governor Wilson at the Princeton Inn. When it was learned that Governor Wilson had cut short his stay in Atlanta, Ga., and hurried north in order to arrange the meeting with the Nebraska delegation it was supposed that there might be some political significance in this dinner, but both men denied that anything of a political nature had been discussed.

Sealing Fleet to Sail.

MEXICO, TARIFF DISTURB TAFT

Forced to Divide Time Between Business and Pleasure.

KEEPS EYE ON "WAR" NEWS

The President Spends His Spare Time at Augusta Golfing or Motoring. Meets John D. Rockefeller.

Augusta, Ga., March 13.—Mrs. Taft and Miss Keien joined the president here for a stay of two weeks. It is apparent that Mr. Taft cannot lay aside all business cares.

In the first place it has been found necessary for the executive to keep himself advised as to the movement of the troops on the Mexican frontier and with each development in the war situation. He thought when he left Washington that he would be able to unburden all this for a time, but this has already been found impossible.

Then, too, the messages to the coming extra session of congress are being considered while here. Only first drafts of the reciprocity message will be prepared, but the whole will be considered and thought out ready for whipping into shape just as soon as the president gets back to Washington.

Extra Session Problems.

As for the extra session, the president is not inclined to take up the political questions involved in it while he is away from Washington. He knows that he will have a siege of that after the session convenes, and he has not invited any political advisers to come to Augusta to confer with him about the political program.

Since he left Washington the president has received information, it is learned, that the Democrats are not preparing to revise more than three or four schedules of the Payne-Aldrich tariff act.

These include the woolen, the cotton, the meat schedules and perhaps one other. Further than this they are not to go, if the president has been correctly advised.

According to the plan one big tariff bill will be proposed. This will embrace in it the Canadian reciprocity agreement and the schedules which are to be revised.

Hope to Dodge Veto.

By this means the Democrats in the house expect to gain the president's approval of the whole revision plan. The president has been told that this procedure is contemplated to avoid if possible a veto.

The president has found himself in more or less distinguished company in Augusta. In the first place John D. Rockefeller is quartered on the same floor with him at the Ben-Air hotel. These two very important Americans met on the golf links and chatted for a few minutes. They have not called on each other at the hotel, though.

Mr. Rockefeller is exclusive and remains in his rooms even for his meals. He only leaves them when he goes to the Country club for golf. He never comes to the diningroom or the sun parlors or otherwise mingles with the guests of the big hotel.

The president, on the other hand, does about all the things that Mr. Rockefeller does not. He and his party have a talk near the center of the diningroom, and take all their meals there. They are in the parlors or the lobby nearly all the time they are not golfing or motoring.

HALF AWAKE, SHOOTS WIFE

Gun, Bought for Her Protection, the Cause of Tragedy.

Princeton, Ind., March 13.—T. E. Thurnan, railroad man, of Mount Carmel, Ill., accidentally shot and fatally wounded his wife.

Thurnan recently bought a gun for his wife's protection. Saturday night he cocked it and left it under his pillow. It worked down in the bed, and half asleep in the morning Thurnan grasped the gun to put it back under the pillow.

His finger touched the trigger and the bullet passed directly through Mrs. Thurnan's stomach, striking the spinal cord. There is no chance for her recovery. The husband is almost crazed.

Catarrh is Surely a Dangerous Disease

Thousands of people allow catarrh to slowly undermine the whole system until a serious disease develops—sometimes consumption.

People who have catarrh should use every effort to get rid of it, but should above all adopt a sensible method.

Stomach dosing, sprays and douches won't cure catarrh because it is a germ disease, and the germs must be destroyed before the disease can be conquered.

HYOMEI is the one sensible cure for catarrh because it reaches every fold, crevice and nook in the mucous membrane and gets where the germs are. You breathe HYOMEI and as it passes over the inflamed membrane its soothing influence heals the soreness and destroys the germs.

A complete HYOMEI outfit costs $1.00. This consists of a bottle of HYOMEI and a hand rubber inhaler. Pour a few drops of HYOMEI into the inhaler and breathe it a few minutes each day, that's all you have to do. It is guaranteed by The People's Drug Store and druggists everywhere to cure catarrh, coughs, colds and sore throat or money back. Extra bottle of HYOMEI costs 50 cents. Free trial sample on request from Bood's Hyomei Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Road to Literary Success

A Story For Those Who Are Ambitious to Write
By JAMES B. HANSON
Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

Perhaps if a census of persons who are scribbling were taken it would be found that half the educated people of the United States are trying to write for the other half. If the careers of authors of fiction are looked into it will be found that those who have achieved any enduring success nearly all gained it under similar circumstances. They began young, usually in the employ of some magazine or newspaper. Many of them became readers of manuscripts submitted for publication. In this atmosphere of mingled literature and publication they pass years occasionally trying to do some work for themselves.

Melville Ostrander at twenty-five, having been graduated at college and taken a number of postgraduate courses, determined to devote himself to literature, confining himself to fiction. Possessing an income sufficient to support him, it was not essential that he at once make money out of his profession. He reasoned that he was in the same position as other professional men who must expect to wait a reasonable time for an income.

There are persons, especially literary persons, who claim that the highest grade of fiction is that in which there are no incidents. The characters are expected to talk their way into the interest of the readers. Ostrander first fell under the influence of this school. He wrote novels in admirable English, in which his characters told their own story—if they had any to tell, which they had not—indirectly in conversations and by giving their own thoughts. His novels were always returned by the publishers as unavailable, except in one instance in which the work appeared with a sale of only a thousand copies—not enough to pay the cost of publication.

Ostrander, hearing that while the retrospective novel was the highest form of literature—so considered by critics if he wished to succeed peculiarly he must enter upon a more lively school. Henceforth he made his characters live madly and go through fire and water for one another. After writing a number of these stories without success he became discouraged. Spring coming on about that time, he concluded to go south for a trip.

In Florida he met a middle aged lady—he had by this time arrived at middle age himself—who had come to the south to recuperate from overwork. Miss Easton was in the employ of a publishing house in New York. In other words, she was one of those persons, already mentioned, who read the manuscripts of other people submitted for publication, at the same time trying to turn an honest penny by doing a little scribbling for herself.

Miss Easton happened to be one of those women whose personality appealed to Mr. Ostrander. A man always sympathizes with a woman who is obliged to work, and especially one who works so hard as to endanger her health. Together they took part in those out of door amusements that may be enjoyed in the south even in the dead of winter. They boated together and drove together, finding something in the palmey tropical winter atmosphere and luxurious plants to warm the emotions even of middle age.

When a practical man discovers that he wants a woman he begins at once to find good and sufficient reasons why he should marry her. Mr. Ostrander in thinking the matter over concluded that Miss Easton would be a helpmeet to him in more ways than one. She could be a reader for him, correcting his manuscripts, making suggestions here and there and giving him hints in the practical or business part of his profession.

So one day when they were sitting among the palms and the flowers and the other reminders of spring he told her that he would be glad to lift the burden from her delicate shoulders to his own stronger ones. He had just enough income to get on with, but had his time to devote to literature and was determined to succeed in it. When he did doubtless they would have money to spend, not in travel for recuperation from hard work, but for pleasure. They would go abroad where he would be able to draw from new scenes and other peoples what would give him still greater fame.

Miss Easton in accepting his offer fell into a practical vein herself—indeed, a more practical vein than that of her lover. She told him that in order to succeed an author must make a market for his wares. He must write what the public wish to read rather than what the critics approved. It was not impossible that he might make a sudden high flight, but it was not probable. Usually time was required.

In this way Mr. Ostrander, a highly educated man, learned from Miss Easton, who had but common school training, that in all things sold for money there are certain fixed business rules—that though brilliant exceptions may occur—are practically inexorable.

Soon after their return to the north they were married. Mrs. Ostrander then told her husband that the publishing house she had been with was setting out a simple little story of hers in book form. It turned out that this simple little story had a very large sale and made the author's reputation.

And the result? The man who had taken up literature as a profession became the publisher of the former drudge and fortune was achieved for both.

The other day at Fort Worth, Tex., the market was topped by a car of hogs which were fattened largely on rice, and the fact was one that roused much interest on the part of both hog raisers and buyers. In the rice country along the coast cracked rice and what is known as rice polish, a by-product of rice milling, have long been a drug on the market, and while their food value as a hog ration has not been completely demonstrated, it has been proved that when fed in connection with corn they make an economical fattening ration.

Few women now-a-days believe that the broom is better than the carpet sweeper, but there are many who think it is more economical.

Just figure it out for yourself. A BISSELL sweeper will last longer than fifty corn brooms that cost not less than $20.00, whereas the best Bissell can be bought for a quarter of that—and less—depending upon style and finish.

Beyond the great economy in direct cost of the Bissell, just consider how it saves time, labor and health, does the work in one-quarter of the time, with 95% less effort than the corn broom requires, makes no noise, raises no dust, and an invalid can use it. Ask your physician what he thinks of the sweeper from a sanitary point of view. Don't sacrifice so much comfort and convenience when it can be obtained so cheaply.

The name BISSELL'S marks the genuine sweeper.
